

April 7, 2006

I urge you to oppose the formation of a Wal-Mart Bank. This company already has a long track record of nefarious practices. They could drive what few local banks remain out of business, as they have local retail outlets, much to the detriment of communities across the country. The last thing Wal-Mart needs is more capital, especially when they already suck most of the capital out of local communities. This company already wields way too much power at every level. They do not treat their employees fairly; and they frequently break civil and criminal laws to extinguish competition and unions.

Please stop the 600-pound gorilla from becoming the 2 ton gorilla. Thank you.

Cynthia Eggert